

The story "After Twenty Years" by O. Henry is about _____ (very short summary) _____. At the beginning of the story _____ (first box of flow map) _____. Later in the story _____ (second box of flow map) _____. Next _____ (third box of flow map) _____. After that _____ (fourth box of flow map) _____. Finally _____ (last box of flow map) _____.

There are several messages that I think O. Henry was trying to communicate. The first message is _____. I think he was trying to communicate that because _____. Another message he was trying to communicate was _____. I think he was trying to communicate that because _____. Also he was trying to communicate _____. I think he was trying to communicate that because _____. Lastly I think he was trying to communicate _____ because _____.

[This is a double bubble exercise. USE THE BUT ARCH.]

The story reminds me of _____ (personal experience, another story, or something happening in the world) _____. It reminds me of that because _____. The similarities between the story and _____ are _____. In the story _____, but in _____ (personal experience, another story, or something happening in the world) _____. In the story _____, on the other hand, in the (personal experience, another story, or something happening in the world) _____.